take for granted – to fail to appreciate something because you think it will always be there. Example: We often take clean water for granted until it's gone.*

asense – a feeling or awareness of something. Example: He had a sense that something bad was about to happen.*

antiquity – ancient times, or something very old. Example: The ruins date back to antiquity.*

overlooked – not noticed or ignored. Example: The report contained an important detail that was overlooked.*

dismantle – to take apart something into smaller pieces. Example: They dismantled the old computer to fix its parts.*

merchant – a person who buys and sells goods. Example: The silk merchant traveled across Asia for trade.*

voyage – a long journey, usually by sea or space. Example: The ship began its voyage across the Atlantic.*

threat – a danger or something that could cause harm. Example: Climate change is a serious threat to our planet.*

drenched – completely wet or soaked. Example: We got drenched in the rain while walking home.*

lashing waves – strong, violent waves hitting something. Example: The boat rocked in the lashing waves during the storm.*

setbacks – problems or delays that stop progress. Example: The project faced several setbacks before completion.*

contemporary knowledge – what people currently know or understand in modern times. Example: His ideas were far ahead of contemporary knowledge.*

adorned – decorated or made beautiful with something. Example: The hall was adorned with flowers for the wedding.*

puzzle out – (phrasal verb) to try to understand or solve something difficult. Example: Scientists are still puzzling out how the disease spreads.*

excavate – to dig in the ground to find old remains or objects. Example: Archaeologists excavated the site to uncover ancient tools.*